Stuck enemy...

Some enemy stuck. This is not a bug. They are just acts strange for unknown reason or just because humans can see them do not mean everyone else should see them and they are just hunting like a plants for a small fish.

This game is open world?

Yes. This game has total 62 screens. You can find gold chests in different parts of this map.

Different messages on tape and z80 after game over?

This is unknown alien planet. Your hero has serious mental health problems when he dies here and he can see an illusion.

Alien55? Why tapes called like this?

I seen misunderstanding when creator of one game was by mistake not called creator his own game. I need 100% proof to confirm my own games so I created taped named "Alien" for my own games. Of course I can create tapes with normal names.

Some people think your game is bad?

I can fix objective reasons such as bugs. But I made my games for myself and I was thinking someone else also could enjoy these games. But... Surely my games were made not for annoying trolls who blames for making games. Of course normal feedback (not insults) is always welcome.
